Update on Rules and Guidelines

DC OP3's draft Rules and Guidelines and Procedures were published for public comment on April 29, 2016. The Rules outline the process for the development, solicitation, evaluation, award, delivery, and oversight of solicited and unsolicited P3 projects in the District. A more user-friendly version of the Rules with additional non-binding guidance is provided in the Guidelines and Procedures.

The 30-day comment period for the draft Rules and Guidelines closed on May 30, 2016. OP3 appreciates all of the helpful feedback that was provided, which is available on OP3's website, and will strengthen our procurement process and procedures. OP3 intends to publish revised versions of the documents that incorporate many of the ideas submitted to OP3. The Rules will also be submitted for review by the D.C. Council before they take effect. Stay tuned for more updates!

OP3 Seeking Advisors

OP3, with the assistance of the Office of Contracting and Procurement (OCP), is seeking consultants to provide advisory services in the business management, financial, and legal fields to help assess, evaluate, develop, and procure P3 projects. The District intends to award multiple IDIQ contracts in each field listed above through a competitive process, and proposers selected under this solicitation will be placed within one or more pools of advisors and given the opportunity to respond to task orders for individual projects.

A pre-solicitation conference will be held at 11:00 a.m. on Monday, June 20, 2016 at the John A. Wilson Building, 1350 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Room G-9/Mayor's Press Briefing Room. Review the draft RFP and RSVP for the pre-solicitation conference on OCP's website.
